Elektra Assasin : REVIEW BY: JOSH HOCHMAN

Have you ever read a comic and liked it so much that you read it again immediatly? That's what I did for each and every issue of Frank Miller's(writer) and Bill Sinkewicz's(artist) Elektra Assasin 8-issue limited series.It's not new, but can easily be found at conventions and stores for a reasonable price. The complete set is out in graphic novel for those of you who like that format(12.95) The writing gets a little choppy and hard to understand at times, but still captivates the reader. The basic plot is about Elektra Assasin hanging around with a renegade S.H.I.E.L.D. super human cyborg, foiling a plot to kill the leading presidential candidate. It is interesting, with creative political insights. As far the art,it is unchallenged. Each panel is a delight, even the totally gory, violent ones. The art is wierd, landing a mysterious tone to the comic. Pick this one up!

Other stuff by Frank miller--- & BILL SIENKIEWICZ

Hard Boiled	+	Stray Toasters
OK, a little strange. Over-priced and violent!! 		Good art, totally retarded story. P.S. Sinkewicz, you cant write! **

ISSUE no 2 COMING SOON!

Gunhead #1 : This new japanese comic is pretty cool. Neeson says "Not enough dialogue!" but the way the comic starts out it's impossible to put any real dialogue in. It starts out with two robots smashing and bashing each other, but the last half of the comic has people talking. It's a story of a government computer (KYRON 5) getting to powerful and revolting. Then the government tried to use the GUNHEAD (Gun Unit Heavy Elimination Device) mobile suits to stop it but they failed. And eventually KYRON 5 became unstoppable, at least in this issue. It's a bit pricey at 4.95 for 45 pages, but its in color and well worth the price. The live-action movie GUNHEAD will probably be coming out later this year. * -A. SADOPSKY

R.P.G. review

City of Greyhawk boxed set --$18, TSR

Have you ever finished an adventure and the tired, hungry and rich characters arrive in a city and you (DM) say: "You arrive in umm.....ahhh ... umm Whateverville and you find an inn, then you sleep. Alright, you guys wanna buy some stuff at the armory?" If this is how it usually happens, the City of Greyhawk boxed set is a necessity for your campaign.

This invaluable tool includes two jampacked books, 4 large maps and a whole bunch of "adventure cards"(short filler adventures). The first book describes the city itself, and the areas surrounding it. There is even a detailed gnome village which has unending possibilities to throw at unexpecting adventurers. The other book describes the city in totally cool detail, giving characteristics for personalities of city nobles like Mordenkainen, Tenser and Otiluke. Their evil counterparts are also detailed. History guilds and economics of the city are also detailed. The maps are interesting too. These include: player's map of Greyhawk, DM's map of greyhawk, sewer map and a surrounding area map. All maps are about 1.5 by 3 feet and are full color. The "adventure cards" are a usefull plus. They are short, 1 or 2 session adventures placed in and around Greyhawk. They are perfect for unprepared DM's.

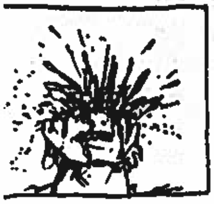

If you need inspiration, or you just enjoy The World of Greyhawk setting, then you should buy this set. I've already used it numerous times in my campaign, and I don't know what I'd do! without it. Too bad G. Gygax didn't write it, thats my only cmplaint.

MOVIE REVIEWS

Bad Taste: This movie is without a doubt one of the greatest and goriest movies I have ever seen.Its a bizzare gorefest without very intense gore scenes.The movies plot is kind of dumb(Aliens come to earth, take over h bodies and do dumb stuff like eat human vomit and your lucky if you get a chunky piece)The movie is really funny and not very serios. Its got a really gutwrenching ending scene thats also hilarios.All in all I think this movie is great.Rush out to your video store and rent this one. *½ "I'm commin to get you bastards!" — A.SADOFSKY

Faces of Death part 1: I think we all pretty much have either heard about or seen this flick.Its really not a gross movie but a sickening documentary of real blood and guts.Its a great movie.I'll never forget the satan worshipers eating the dead guy or the lady who got ran over by a semi or the electric chair scene to name just a few. If really,really sick gore after plotless gore interests you than this movie you would enjoy. * — A. SADOFSKY

Lunch Meat: Holy shit! I never knew they made movies this bad.The Brady Bunch was scarier than this.I think what happened with this movie is a few 5½ year olds found dads camcorder and decided to make a gross movie. Its got very cheap gore scenes(like the part where a guys got an axe and he is chopping up a girl off screen then they show the girl,shes got her shirt torn up and somebody sprinkled a little fake blood on her,you hafta laugh at it)On the cover of the movie box they've got all these bullshit warning signs.I forgot looks can be decieving. If you're in first or second grade you might like this movie. * — A.SADO

Make Them Die Slowly: Who ever told you that low-budget movies suck.Take this classic gem for example.This movie (made quite a few years back)is really a good one.I liked all the torturing sequences like the hooks through the tits scene,(no I'm not sick!)there was also a few great cannibalism gut-muncher shots.The really painful part of this movie was where a cannibal chopped this guys dick of,ate it,and then burnt the wound shut to keep him from bleeding to death(ouch!).Thats about all to say about this movie besides its been banned in 24 countries and YES! it is better than Friday the 13th partVIII Jason takes manhat ½ —A.SADOFSKY

Japanimation movies

Macross:Clash of the Bionoids: If you liked Robotech you'll love this movie. Its the Japanese version of Robotech:The Macross Saga all jammed into one 2-hour long movie.Its got much better animation and a few new robots. The plot is changed a bit but it does'nt matter because you would have to watch it about 8-10 times to fully understand it like I did.Yea I know it does go overboard on the romance but all the action makes up for it.It does also have a few adult scenes cut out. There is a cool part in the movie where evil Zentradi mobilsuits crash through the hull of the S.D.F-1 or in this movie its called the Macross The voices are kinda cheezy with the infamous uh' and huh's in it.  — A.
